Our staff is dedicated to working with individuals with disabilities to identify and remove barriers, and to assist with living independently in their own homes and communities.

Roads serves as a strong advocacy voice on a wide range of national, state, and local issues. We work to assure physical and programmatic access to housing, employment, transportation, recreation, health and social services.

What is the Independent Living Philosophy?

Choice, autonomy and control define Independent Living. The philosophy holds that individuals with disabilities have the right to live with dignity and appropriate support in their own homes; they have the right to fully participate in the activities of their communities; and to control and make decisions about their own lives.

Services include but are not limited to:

Information and Referral provides information about disability issues and referrals to services for people with disabilities in the community.

Independent Living Skills Training provides training, support, goal planning with people with disabilities so they may be able to live as independently as possible in the community. Examples are but not limited to: Finding affordable accessible housing, developing life skills (such as cooking, cleaning, money management, etc.), systems and individual advocacy, employment, education, transportation, and communication.

Peer Mentoring provides advice and support for people with disabilities who are finding it difficult to address disability related issues. This support is provided one-on-one, in educational trainings, and/or in group discussions.

Advocacy services by acting either on behalf of a person with a disability or encouraging the individual to act on his/her own behalf to deal with administrative procedures of various agencies, in settling disputes, securing various entitlements and/or securing financial assistance, and safeguarding legal and human rights for all people with disabilities.

Recreational activities that we offer or coordinate may include: therapeutic swimming, bowling, bingo, camping, cycling activities, fishing trips, ceramics class, adaptive basketball, adaptive tennis, movie nights, music/concert nights, horseback riding, rock wall climbing, snow skiing and water skiing, etc. We strive to find a way for anyone to participate in recreational activities. Whether it is through assistive technology, community barrier removal, or even just peer support.

Assistive Technology may be acquired commercially or off the shelf then modified or customized for each individual, and may include: power wheelchairs, walkers, talking computers, lifts for the home or vehicle, shower benches, or they may be home modifications like grab bars for your bathroom, widening doors, cut outs under your sinks, build ramps, etc. They are designed to assist an individual with their everyday activities. There are literally thousands of assistive technology products, and we can assist you in deciding which items can maximize your independence.
